

As a customer of MegaPath, you should have an understanding of the Internet and must abide by some simple rules and regulations.

No one owns the 'Internet' and there is no one contact point for it. MegaPath cannot control the information that you might receive while using any MegaPath access service, including xDSL, Cable, T1, Satellite, ISDN or Global Remote Access Service, and we do not monitor the data that is transmitted to you.

Because we do not own or control the Internet, MegaPath cannot and does not accept any responsibility or liability for injury to you that results from inaccurate, unsuitable or offensive Internet communications. It is up to you to control your use of this service and to make appropriate use of monitoring software that is available from many third party vendors that can provide filtering and parental control for offensive material.

MegaPath will not permit you or others using your MegaPath access service(s) to use this service for any of the following purposes as they violate the terms of your agreement with MegaPath:

- Spam: Unsolicited, commercial mass e-mailing to others
- Copyright Infringement: Infringement of copyrights held by individuals and corporations or other entities can result in civil and criminal liability. If you use your access service to distribute information, you should be aware of and abide by the laws involving copyrights
- Obscene Material: MegaPath will not allow the use of our network for the distribution of obscene or indecent material. MegaPath reserves the right to make the judgment in our sole discretion as to what constitutes obscene or indecent material
- Illegal Activity: Any activity that is of an illegal or unlawful nature under the laws of the United States of America or the State of California or any other applicable jurisdiction
- Other: Any other activity that MegaPath determines, in our sole discretion, is unethical, or damaging to our other customers, users of the Internet in general, or to our corporate reputation

All use of this system is by license only, and may be monitored or recorded. Access and modification of system configurations, IP addresses, and other firmware and system code is permitted only by MegaPath and its authorized personnel. MegaPath and its suppliers reserve all rights to such materials. Use of the system without authority is in violation of contract, and applicable laws, including, without limitation, fraud, electronic invasion, infringement and misappropriation of intellectual property, and security.

MegaPath regularly monitors our network and its use. If we become aware of any violations of the above conditions, we may cancel your account immediately and without notice.

By placing an order with MegaPath and using our services, you are presumed to have accepted this Acceptable Use Policy.
